

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Congratulations on your new dosing cup! This stainless steel cup is designed to quickly and cleanly transfer your coffee dose from your grinder to your basket. It has a special ceramic coating that cuts down on retained grounds, so more of your coffee makes it into the portafilter instead of clinging and staying behind.

The dosing cup is small enough to fit many home espresso grinders, but can still hold your full dose of coffee grounds. The coating is durable and resistant to chips and scratches, so it will look as good as new for a long time. To clean the cup, you can rinse the inside with water and wipe clean with a soft cloth, or add it to the top rack of your dishwasher.
